

Francisco Oliva (Con Artist) has approximately 10 years of experience in the film and theater industry. He has recently relocated to Colorado from California and will be appearing in his first Windsor production. Some of his leading theatre roles include Tiger Wear a Necktie, Angels in America, God of Carnage, Days of Wine & Roses, and Tough Cookie, to name a few.

Lilly Hicks (Child Con Artist): is excited for her first show with WCP! She is 8 years old and in 2nd grade. Lilly was most recently seen as Little Bo Peep in Ei-Ei-Oops with a local children's theater. In addition to acting, she loves to sing, draw, play basketball, and take care of her baby dolls. She wants to work in a nursery or be a dolphin trainer when she grows up!

George Giorgetti (Unknown Stranger): has directed over 30 musicals during his stint as a musical theater teacher in California. However, this is his first performing role in 25 years. Thank you, Windsor community!

A note from the director...

There was a popular country song a few years back called "Looking for Love in All the Wrong Places." I confess I've made this mistake. But I've been more fortunate when it comes to angels - I've always had angels with feet of clay and they are all around me every day lifting me up. They are friends, they are family, they are strangers with small acts of kindness - they are you. Some of the foibled characters in this play are looking for miracles in all the wrong places.

The cast and crew has worked very hard to bring you some laughter in the midst of our pandemic burnout, and we hope the laughter uplifts your spirit. And isn't that shared laughter a miracle? Thank you for coming out to see us. Thank you to the wonderful cast and crew and people of WCP.

Meet the Cast (In order of appearance)

Cori Campfield (Lou Ann Hightower): This is Cori's second performance with WCP. She previously played the part of Betty in A Little Dickens on the Air. Cori is thrilled to be playing the role of Lou Ann Hightower in Messiah on the Frigidaire. She is extra grateful for all the support and encouragement from her family and friends and especially from her favorite little six-year-old daughter.

Don Reidy (Dwayne Hightower): is the Artistic Director at WCP & resident set builder. Don attended La De Da Performing Arts School where he studied acting, improv, and musical theatre. Don was a part of the Be Glorious Improv Troupe, has performed in the Fringe Festival, & played the scarecrow in the Geezer of Oz. Don loves being here at WCP where he has been in shows like Drinking Habits, Blithe Spirit, Thirties Affairs, Almost Maine, The Last of the Red Hot Lovers, and most recently, Geezers.

Stevie Townsend (Betsy Gridley): is so grateful to be a part of Messiah on the Frigidaire! This is her third show with WCP, and first show under Kate's direction. She's a graduate of the University of Wyoming and the Art of Acting Studio Summer Program. When she isn't acting, Stevie loves hiking, going to baseball games, eating, and feeding the animals that visit her apartment. She hopes you enjoy the show!

Nathan Hall (Rev. Hodges): is making his WCP premiere in "Messiah on the Frigidaire." He has prior experience in college and church theatrical productions and has directed youth drama programs in Missouri. He's a graduate of Evangel University in Springfield, Missouri with a master's degree in Organizational Leadership. His hobbies include baking, cooking, and hiking, and he is very involved in his church. He is married to his wonderful husband, Michael, who works for Larimer County.

Brian Mathew Carr (Larry Williamson): is a recent transplant to Windsor from Texas. Prior to Texas he had spent time in Los Angeles where he had the privilege to be under the tutelage of veteran actors like Larry Hovis, Ben Guillory, Robert Carnegie, and Jeff Goldblum. He has earned work in front of the camera as well as on stage with the likes of G.W. Bailey, Nolan North, John Lithgow, Obba Babatunde' and many other talented performers. He and his wife Nathalie have five children and look forward to exploring the beauty of Colorado.
